Hymenial.

The world was sad, the Garden was a wild, And man, the hermit, sighed, "till woman smiled, Another beautiful marriage was celebrated in Mr. Ruff's church Wednesday afternoon, when Miss Bettie Alexander was united in the holy bonds to Mr. Sam Aston.

A large and fashionable assemblage had gathered and filled the church to overflowing some time before the wedding party arrived.

Mrs. Sexton and Mr. Will Henry Alderson played Lohengrin as the first two ushers, Messrs. Allen Higginbotham and Jeff Gillespie passed down the aisle, followed at the regulation distance by Dr. Gilmer, of Russell, and Mr. Douglas Smith. Then came Mr. Gus Aston, of Washington and Mr. Charlie Alexander. When these had taken their places to the right and to the left of the altar, the bridesmaids entered by couples in the same order, Misses Mattie Peery and Carrie Dunn, Misses Jole Brittain and Rachel Peery, and Miss Daisy Thompson and Josie Smythe. Following the bridesmaids came the groom, supported by his best man, Mr. Tom Smith. Miss Althea Alexander the maid of honor, in pink organdie, carrying La France roses, preceded the bride who followed on her father's arm, beautifully attired in white organdie, with large hat covered with white plumes and carrying American Beauty roses. The costume of the bride was closely imitated by those of her bridesmaids, all in white organdies with uniform hats trimmed with both red and pink roses, and carrying in their hands white parasols and La France roses. The pastor used a ring ceremony and a pretty feature of the function was the kneeling of the bridesmaids with the bride during prayer.

After the twain had been made one the party passed up the aisle in a verted order to the joyous strains of Mendelssohn wedding march, and as far as the church and State were concerned the beautiful ceremony was over, and the popular couple passed literally into the hands of their friends. A short reception was held at the bride's home from whence the bride and groom were accompanied to the train by a large procession including all the party of the ceremony. The beautiful custom of rice throwing was not forgotten, and the couple who had inspired so much interest and had brought so many people from so many places, passed eastward on their honeymoon trip, with the blessings and good wishes of all whom they left behind.

The loving regard in which the bride is held was evinced by the exquisitely decorated church and the numerous and handsome presents which were showered upon her.

Graham-Cox.

So much has been learned through the daily papers and from members of the wedding party who returned early in the week, that it is hardly necessary to say that Judge S. C. Graham, of this town, was married last week to Miss Minnie Cox, of Chesterfield. The occasion attracted a notable gathering to Algoma, the splendid country seat of Gen. T. M. Logan, who is an uncle of the bride. The function was performed by Rector Buckner of this parish in his most happy style, and after the beautiful and elaborate ceremonial of his church, and a large house-party, always assembled at Algoma at this season, together with many invited guests from different sections of this and other States made a cloud of witnesses. After a few days spent in eastern cities the happy couple returned here last Tuesday, and we learn that the usual wedding tour is postponed until after some important engagements of Judge Graham's will have been filled when he expects to take his wife to the sea-shore and to Rockbridge Alum Springs where, we learn, the parties first met.

Obituary.

Mrs. L. K. Haynes died on the 7th inst after a painful illness, and surgical operation. She was born Hannah Price Love, in Nov. 1837. She was married to Rev. L. K. Haynes in Nov. 1883. The deceased lady was most estimable in every relation of life, devoted to her family, her church and her friends. She had been a sufferer for years, and has borne all her afflictions with a serene Christian fortitude, and now that these afflictions are ended for all time and she has entered into eternal rest. It is useless to say that the husband, who is left desolate has universal sympathy.

Died in Texas.

Mr. I. E. Chapman received a telegram last Thursday, informing him of the death of Mrs. Kizzie Swenson, his niece, at her home in Abilene Texas, on June 1st. Mrs. Swenson was a daughter of the late G. W. G. Browne, formerly of Taxewell.

Mrs. M. C. McCorkle and the children left on Tuesday for Big Stone Gap, where Mr. McCorkle is in business. Mrs. McCorkle made many friends here, who are very sorry to give her up. Mrs. Ferguson has moved into Mr. McCorkle's house.

Mrs. Geo. W. Spotts, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. B. W. Stras, returned this week to Pulaski, where she makes her home with her son, Mr. A. C. Spotts.

A little child of Tom Crockett, in Wrights Valley, has been very ill for some days, but Dr. Connor Hall, who has attended the case, reports it much better. The doctor says that at this time there is not a case of typhoid fever in the county so far as his knowledge extends.

Painful Accident on Clinch Mountain.

Last Friday, as Mr. John Adams, and Miss Lyde Thompson, of Thompson Valley, were crossing Clinch Mountain, on their return from the Commencement of Martha Washington College, their buggy came uncoupled at a sharp curve in the road, and the buggy and its occupants went whizzing and tumbling over the mountain side. Mr. Adams and Miss Thompson found themselves near one hundred yards from the road, at the bottom of the hollow, in an almost unconscious condition. While not seriously hurt they were very much battered and bruised up. Their escape from serious injury seemed almost miraculous.

Our New Man.

We have secured the services of Mr. E. H. Bobbitt, late of Salem, as an addition to our force. Mr. Bobbitt is a young man who knows his business, being thoroughly conversant with all the details of newspaper and job work. He has had experience in the business, having been connected with some of the best papers in the State. Mr. Bobbitt is a young man of good moral habits and character, as well as a good printer.

The Concert.

The Old Folks Concert given on Saturday night in the town Hall, was very successful in every way. The Tazewell Amateurs may be depended upon to do the handsome thing whenever they under take to do so. The Negro Minstrel addendum, conducted by Joe. Warden, was quite a "hit," and gave general satisfaction.

Judges Coles Lecture.

Judge Cole, who is to lecture here this evening, has a wide reputation among the people, as a fine speaker, and brilliant lecturer. A treat is in store for our people. The "Negro Minstrels," and other attractions will be given at the same time.

The Tell-Tale Smile.

The numerous friends of Dr. Jno. E. Jackson have observed an unusually pleasant expression on his face recently. The reason is plain. There came a little boy to his home last Wednesday morning.

The Martinsville Standard.

W. I. Boone's new paper published from Martinsville seems to be all that is necessary. His last issue was an Industrial Edition of 5000 copies. Old Boone is a sight on Industrial Editions. We wish the new paper much luck.

To The Public.

I hereby give notice to the public that I will not be responsible for any debts or obligations, contracted in my name, by my wife Mollie M. Cline, or papers she may sign in my name.

J. M. Cline,

Friends have been raised up to help the suffering and destitutions of old Zacky Waldron, whose terrible hurt we mentioned some days ago. Some ladies at the Station have sent supplies, and he received a little five dollar souvenir Saturday from Mr. Rutherford on behalf of the county. It is now possible that the old man may recover from his injuries.

J. T. Hopkins, of the firm of Thompson Hopkins & Co., passed through the city on Sunday for the Eastern markets to buy a stock of goods for his new store here.

A charming quartette of girls have just been turned loose in society's early rose garden for the summer, who have been students at the Southwest Va. Institute at Bristol. They are Misses Hattie Surface, Olette Harman, Lizzie Barnes and Mary Bundy, and we wish them a happy vacation.
